

Figure: ERPs of the modeled covariates. (A) Velocity. The ERP shows a clear dependence on the speed of the ball with slower movement leading to a shallower activation. (B) Eccentricity. If the ball is positioned further outward, the ERP will show a stronger activation (C) Angle. We see that the opposing angles will also lead to opposing activity strength.